Studio Policies

Please check our website at www.allegrodancer.com for studio policies. We encourage you to review these policies with your dancer before lessons begin, to ensure a safe and productive class. These policies address illness or missed lessons, waiting and dressing areas, parent observation, water and restroom visits, behavior/talking, studio etiquette, lost & found and communication.

Staff Update

We are very excited to start our new dance season with four new dance instructors.

We want to welcome our two new ballet teachers Rachel Simons and John Gardner. We are also thrilled to welcome Lynsey Martin who will be teaching Tap and Katie Greer who will be teaching Jazz.

Rachel, John, Lynsey and Katie all have extensive dance experience. We are excited to have them join our team.

What to Wear to Class

Remember to check that your dancer has the correct dancewear for class. Proper dance technique is our main focus during dance class, so we ask that no one wear t-shirts, sweatshirts, tennis shoes, house slippers, sweatpants, jazz pants or shorts in class (with exception to the dance shorts and ankle pants listed on the website). Dancers will be asked to remove any of the items listed above if worn to class.

The dancewear needed for class can be purchased at local dance stores: Big Kick located in Studio "C" (503-319-3388), Dance Togs in Beaverton(503-644-7545), Dee's Dance Design in Milwaukie (503-652-0475) and Discount Dance Supply (www.discountdance.com).

Please check the information sheet that was mailed to you or our website: www.allegrodancer.com and click on "General Info" for a detailed list of approved dancewear.
